Sarah Ong

Empathetic and intuitive by nature, I feel fortunate to have found my calling in baby sleep training. My holistic approach involves understanding broader issues before delving into the specifics. I thrive on identifying root causes, providing tailored solutions for both parents and children.

- Mum of 1
- Also a Senior Financial Advisor, Senior Physiotherapist and Content Creator

Vivien Tan

As a working mum, I've found peace through sleep training while navigating the balancing act of work and family life. I'm passionate about helping fellow mums bid restless nights farewell and achieve their dreams with a friendly and effective approach to sleep.

Common Baby Sleep Struggles

Need rocking, feeding or pacifier to fall asleep

Multiple wake-ups throughout the night

Short, irregular and unpredictable naps

Hard to settle down for sleep

How Does Poor Sleep Affect Babies and Toddlers?

Let's talk about what happens when they miss out on those zzz's.

Weak Immune System

When kids don't get enough sleep, they tend to fall sick and feel stressed out more easily.

Physical and Brain Development

Sleep-deprived children might not grow as well as their peers.

Weight Issues

Short sleep duration is often associated with weight gain and obesity in adolescents.

Poor Focus and Slow Learning

Being tired all the time makes it hard for them to concentrate. It also takes longer for them to learn and remember new knowledge.

What Improvements Can Parents Expect With Sleep Training?

For Your Baby:

- Self-soothe to sleep without rocking/patting/feeding/pacifier
- Fewer night wakings
- A predictable daily routine and schedule
- Longer, more restful sleep
- No more crying or fussing to sleep
- Better health, growth and development

For You and Your Family:

- Better sleep quality, better health
- Stronger bonds with your child(ren)
- Quality time with your partner
- Cherished me-time
- Able to focus at work
- Have time for personal tasks

Newborn 8 - 16 Weeks Old

Hey new mums and dads! Need guidance from early on? Let's help your little one establish good sleep hygiene and healthy habits from the beginning.

Infant 4-24 Months Old

Bedtime struggles? Night wakings? Or naps that are just too short? Let's teach your little champ how to sleep soundly on their own.

Toddlers 2-5 Years Old

If you're aiming to tweak your toddler's sleep routine and make sure they're resting enough, you're in the right place.

We Have Helped Over 600 Families To Sleep Better

“We are glad that our baby is now able to sleep independently and we were able to follow his sleep plan which was personalised for him.”

- Chelsea Sim-

“Sleepy Bubba method works! Aurelius was able to sleep 8pm-8am on the second night! Took him around one week to adjust, mama and papa are finally able to rest well.”

- Junying-

“It seemed like his back had a buzzer and once it touched the bed he cried. 😱 I’m so so glad I made this decision to sleep train him. He sleeps better and longer now.”

- Mummy J-
